Light Up the Hills 2020

Light up the Hills 2019 featured over 50 different artists, ranging from dancers, aerial artists and musicians to digital light designers. About 2,500 people of all ages enjoyed the sparkling lights and dazzling shows available free for all, and many families attended the free workshops held before the festival to make their own lanterns. In 2020 we anticipate this festival of light to be bigger than ever.

We are seeking volunteers now for all aspects of this event: assisting in workshops held for the public to build lanterns; setting up booths; guiding the public; distributing light materials; cleaning up. Don't miss out on being part of the action.
